

Sinclair Broadcasting's show of the anti-Kerry documentary just days before the election is an example of the problems to our democracy when media is consolidated. The public airwaves are used by Sinclair. They are obligated to serve the public. The actions by Sinclair show that we need to strengthen media ownership rules, not weaken them.